

Think And Link: A Visual Tutorial

By Jason Prideaux

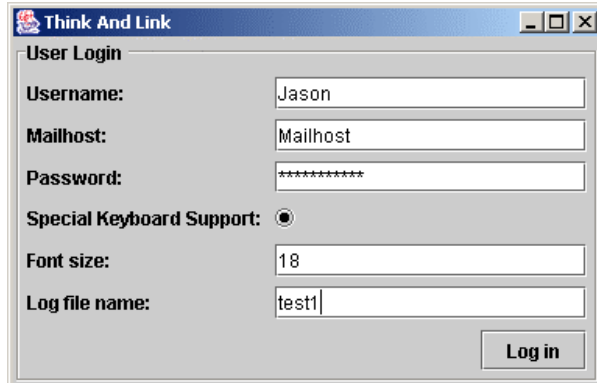

Figure 1. The login screen; provides a visual way to start the system (mainly for developers and testers).

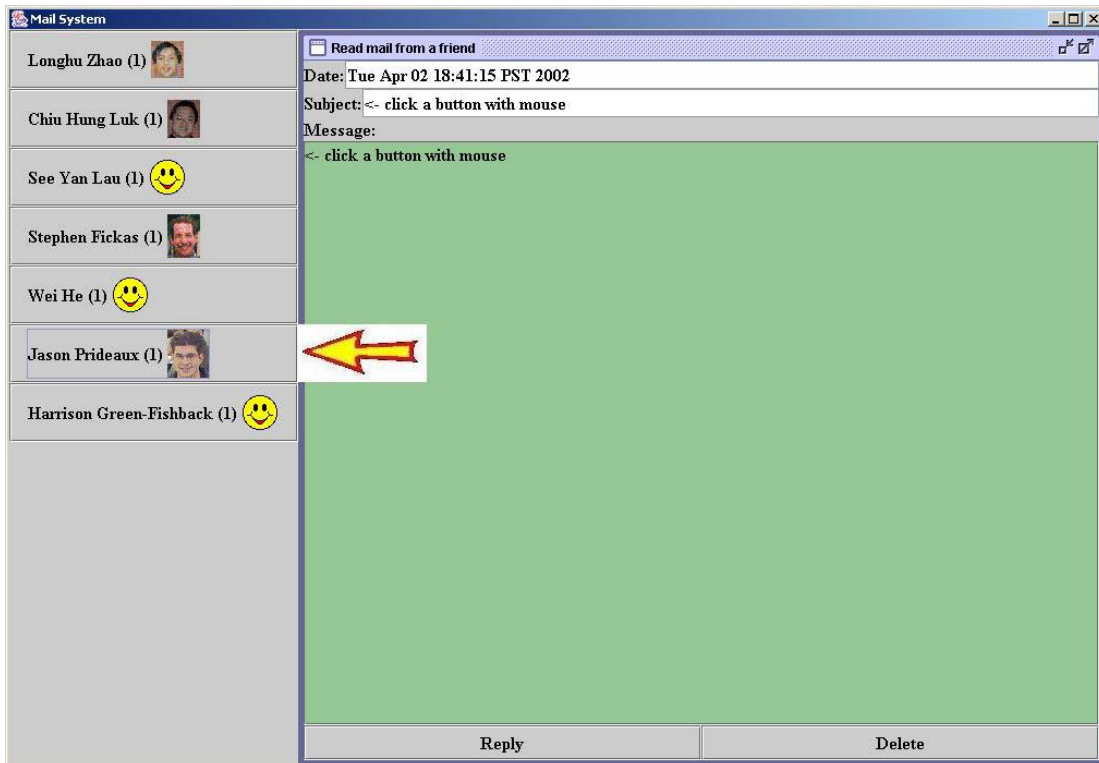

Figure 2. The main screen of Think And Link. Use Page Up key to navigate the inbox.

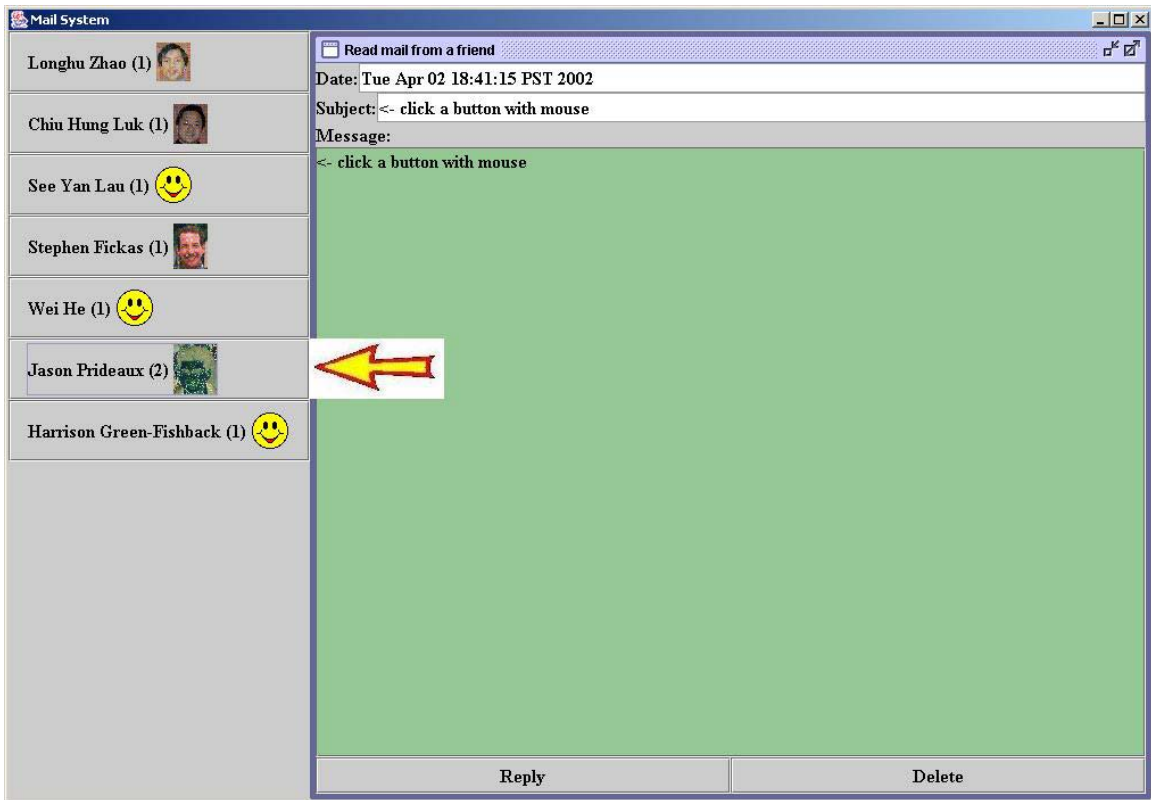

Figure 3. The user gets new mail from Jason. The icon flashes and a voice alerts the user.

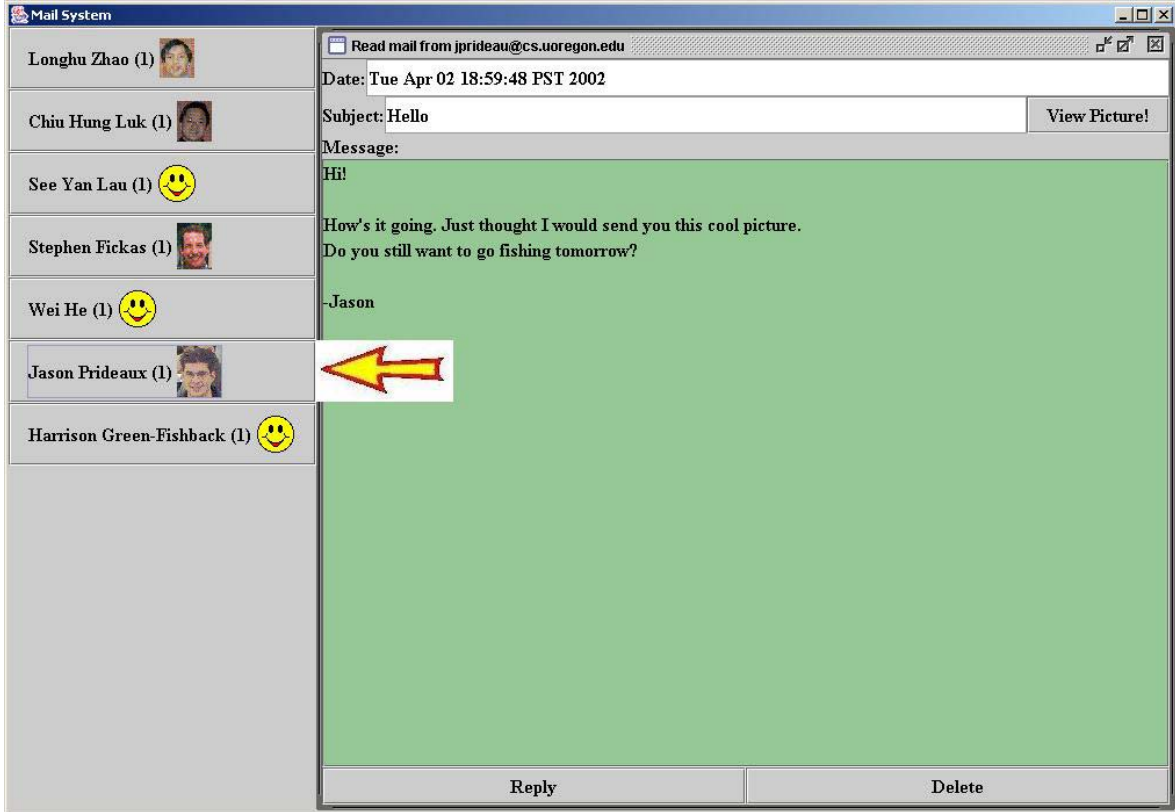

Figure 4. Read the new mail from Jason by moving the arrow to Jason and pressing Space bar.

Mail System

Longhu Zhao (1)

Chiu Hung Luk (1)

See Yan Lau (1)

Stephen Fickas (1)

Wei He (1)

Jason Prideaux (1)

Harrison Green-Fishback (1)

Read mail from jprideau@cs.uoregon.edu

Date: Tue Apr 02 18:59:48 PST 2002

Subject: Hello View Picture!

Message:

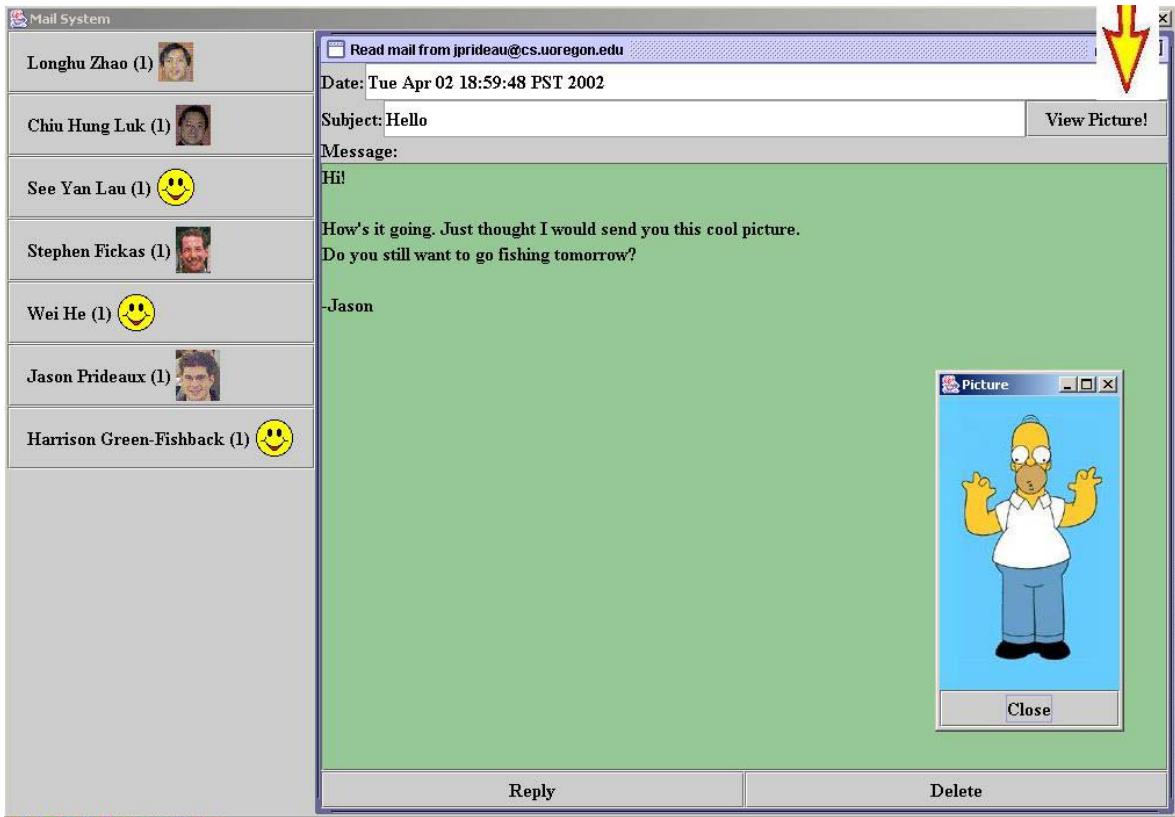

Hi!

How's it going. Just thought I would send you this cool picture.
Do you still want to go fishing tomorrow?

-Jason

Reply Delete

key.

Figure 7. Reply to message by navigating to the reply button and pressing Space bar.

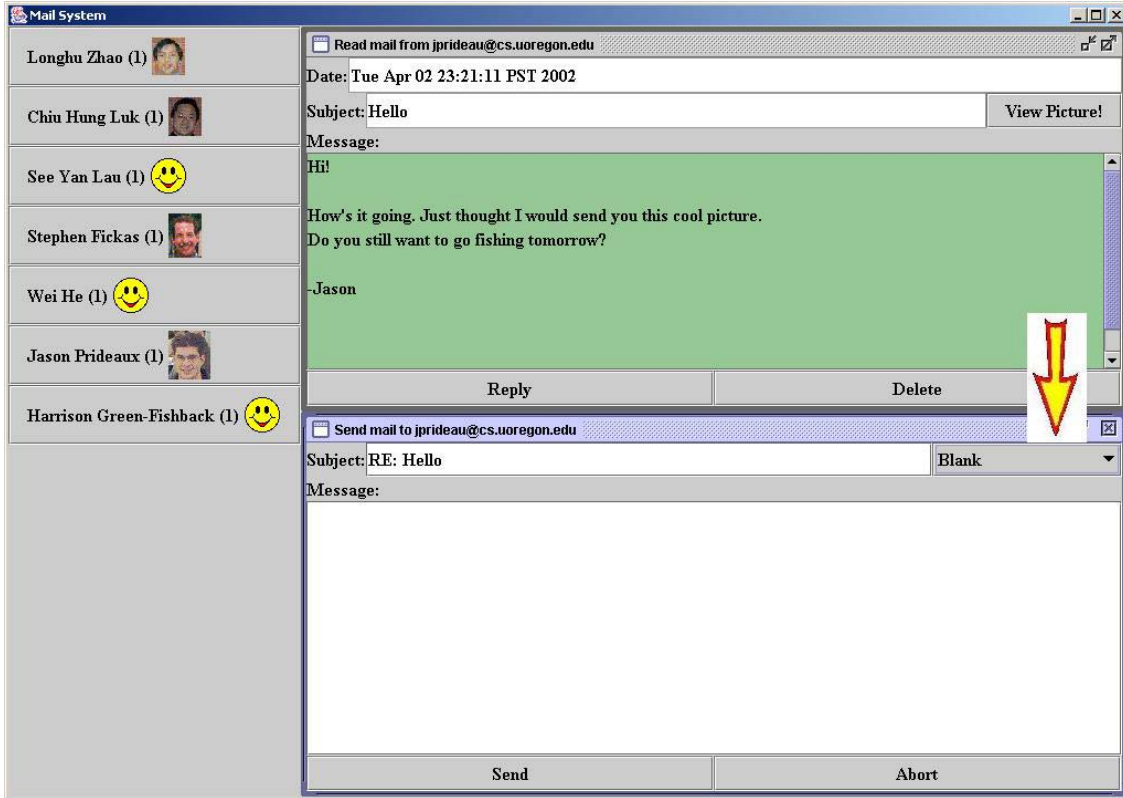

Figure 8. You may choose a message template by pressing Space on the chooser box.

Mail System

Longhu Zhao (1)

Chiu Hung Luk (1)

See Yan Lau (1)

Stephen Fickas (1)

Wei He (1)

Jason Prideaux (1)

Harrison Green-Fishback (1)

Read mail from jprideau@cs.uoregon.edu

Date: Tue Apr 02 19:09:41 PST 2002

Subject: Re: Hello View Picture!

Message:

Hi!

How's it going. Just thought I would send you this cool picture.
Do you still want to go fishing tomorrow?

-Jason

Reply Delete

Send mail to jprideau@cs.uoregon.edu

Subject: RE: Hello on_a_vacation ▾

Message:

Hi,

How are you today? We plan to go for holiday. We would like to go to Seattle ▾ Do you want to join with us? We may want to go there by Air ▾ Please let me know whether you would like to join us as soon as possible.

See you, ▾

Luke ▾

Send Abort

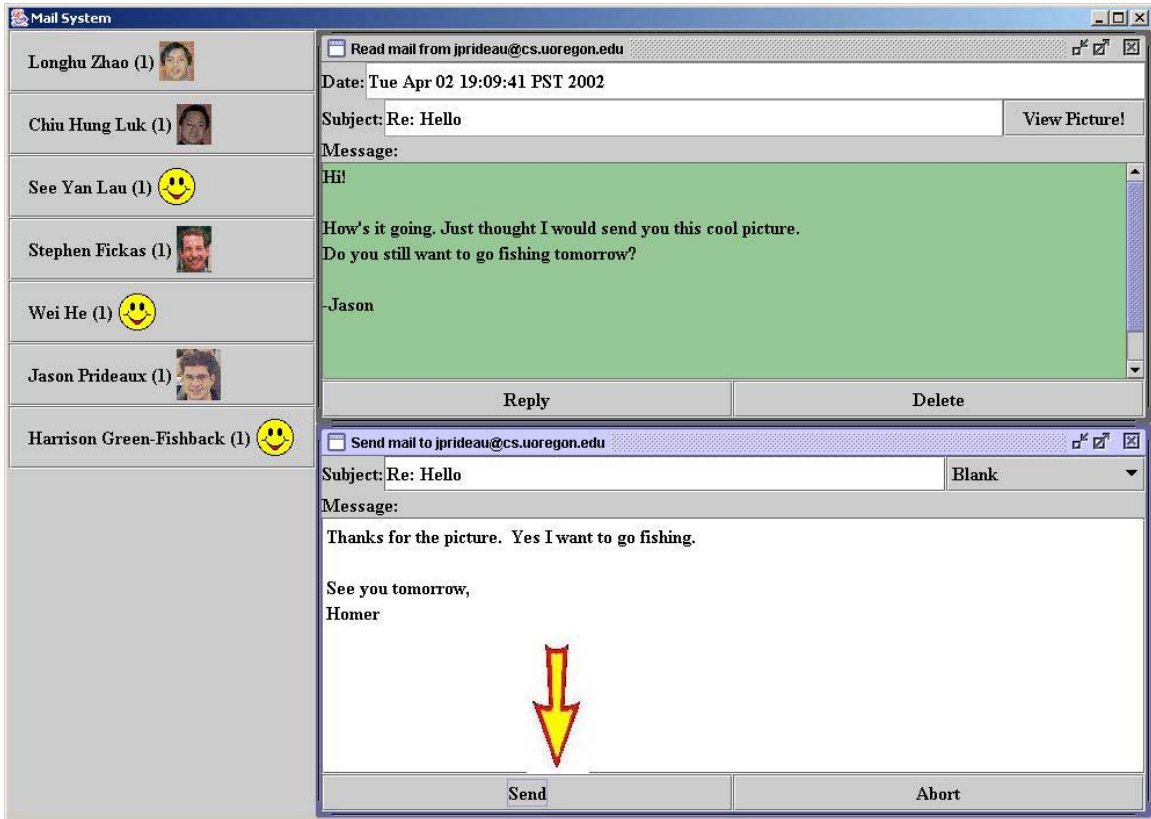

Figure 10. Or the user may choose no template, and type his/her own message. Navigate to the Send button with Page Down key and press Space to send the message.